

Looking for something

Andrea Ocello

I look for something in my dreams and I hope, in my awakening, to find an answer.
Sometimes I don't remember Sometimes everything is confused
Small fragments that don't help me understand.

RIT

[Looking for something
that makes the difference
Searching in life
a sense of meaning
Looking for something
stirring your heart
Looking for a light
showing and enlightening your way]

In the depth of my soul I'm looking for myself, I discover great values of me in which I really believe, but I don't often succeed in getting out of me easily.

[Looking for something
that makes the difference
Looking for a sense of meaning in your life
Looking for something
stirring your heart
Looking for a light

Lookin' on for something sometimes it makes me alive, sometimes it gets me tired.

In the hours of silence, when everything seems to be still the mind flies back to the quest.
